Part 1: An Introduction to Sophia Divinity School

Sophia Divinity School was founded in 1958 in California as a low residency, independent study seminary program for the religious training of all independent Catholic jurisdictions. Archbishop Herman Adrian Spruit, founder of the Catholic Apostolic Church of Antioch, was co-founder of the divinity school. He wrote: "An educational program initiated by the Catholic Apostolic Church of Antioch must not be only a school, but a movement in spirit that goes beyond the reason of the academy. It must nurture the roots of life with balanced rations of mysticism. Only mysticism sustains the vitality and reality of faith. Education nowadays is often an attempt to serve the status quo. It shall not be so with us. We will lead you into brighter horizons and out into greater fulfillment. We will share many treasures with you that will open new vistas into a better and finer life."

Sophia Divinity School provides the opportunity for discernment of one's call, and for those so called, educates individuals for ordained ministry. The divinity school also educates individuals seeking a degree for purposes other than ordination. The courses offered enrich the spiritual life of students, enhance their appreciation of the great spiritual traditions of the world, and promote global awareness of our human family relationships as a spiritual fellowship.

Sophia is the Greek word for wisdom. Sophia Divinity School provides academic and spiritual resources for the international Independent Catholic movement with a focus on preparation for ministry in the Catholic Apostolic Church of Antioch. The Catholic Apostolic Church of Antioch provides the traditional catholic sacraments, maintains a progressive stance, and orients participants toward spiritual development. Our Continuing Education Program provides lifelong spiritual development for the broader Christian Movement.

The Seminary Program

Sophia Divinity School is a non-accredited seminary that prepares individuals for sacramental ministry in the Catholic Apostolic Church of Antioch and other jurisdictions in the Independent Catholic/Orthodox movement. An important mission of the Catholic Apostolic Church of Antioch is to provide the traditional catholic sacraments without restrictions to all who desire them. The seminarian's preparation includes courses related to the celebration of the sacraments as well as a broad look at perennial religious issues.

Candidates for ordination are required to demonstrate competence in the following core areas: biblical & historical research, comparative religions and traditions, ethics, history, liturgy, Christian mysticism and metaphysics, pastoral studies, philosophy, spirituality, and theological & religious studies.

Candidates with prior training or competence may request the transfer of coursework from another institution. Transfer applications should be requested from the Dean. Applicants with prior academic theological studies will be asked to provide supporting documentation such as transcripts, certificates, or any other pertinent documents from an institution of higher education.

Eligibility and Admission

The theological program of Sophia Divinity School is designed for individuals seeking ordination for ministry within the Catholic Apostolic Church of Antioch or other Independent Catholic/Orthodox jurisdictions. Candidates from jurisdictions other than the Catholic Apostolic Church of Antioch must have approval from the appropriate ecclesial authority in their jurisdiction. The seminary also provides educational opportunities for those who do not feel called to ordination.

Candidates are required to have a level of academic achievement and prior life experience which demonstrates potential for successful completion of a program of priestly formation and for ministry. Candidates study for a Bachelor's or Master's degree. Clergy formation is supervised by the school in consultation with regional mentors assigned to the student. Students are also expected to work with the Dean, and to follow their individualized Spiritual Formation Plan. It is expected that seminarians preparing for the priesthood display and exhibit those qualities expected of a priest. Respect, compassion, availability, and love for the Divine as well as for our brothers and sisters, are qualities which will be nurtured and strengthened during the seminary experience.

Important Notice

The priesthood in the Catholic Apostolic Church of Antioch is open to all regardless of race, age, gender, marital status, sexual orientation, or disability.

Candidates should know that clergy in our church are responsible for the fiscal support of their own ministries. The Catholic Apostolic Church of Antioch does not provide salaries or stipends for clergy.

While Sophia Divinity School prepares candidates spiritually and academically for ordination, candidates should also know that the final decision concerning their suitability for ordination is made in consultation with the Dean and Rector of the seminary, and in some cases with other bishops of the Church.

Religious Education Course of Study

The Bachelor of Divinity (B.Div.) degree is the prerequisite for ordination. The Master of Divinity (M.Div.) degree provides a focused advanced study in the areas of Christian and Pastoral Ethics, History of Christianity, Christology or The New Chaplaincy as a Ministry of Presence.

Entering B.Div. candidates complete three courses and participate in spiritual formation designed to aid in discernment of vocation. Once this discernment is validated, they proceed with continued spiritual formation and nine additional courses leading to the minor order of healer, before moving on to major orders.

Some B.Div. seminarians may not choose to be ordained to the priesthood but may choose to be ordained to the diaconate. Deacons may perform weddings, baptisms, and funerals and memorial services. Deacons are not awarded a degree unless they complete the educational requirements for the degree. Should deacons decide at a later time to pursue ordination to the priesthood, they must complete all the required course work and be found suitable for this office.

Ordination to major orders is always done by a Bishop.

Required Practicum, Convocation, and Spiritual Formation

Seminarians are expected to attend all convocations and practicum sessions during their studies. Before seminarians can be ordained to the diaconate, participation is required in these practicum sessions, which are held during convocations. Convocations also provide the seminarian the opportunity to spend time with the Presiding Bishop, the Dean, and other CCOA clergy and seminarians.

All B.Div. seminarians must be involved in a Spiritual Formation Program throughout their studies. Information about this requirement is found in the Appendix of this catalog. Seminarians are expected to attend Mass/Holy Eucharist/Divine Liturgy weekly. Attendance at other liturgical services besides the Eucharist: Baptisms, Confirmations, Weddings, etc., is also highly recommended.

The Bachelor of Divinity (B. Div.) degree

The Bachelor of Divinity degree is the basic theological degree awarded to seminarians prior to ordination for ministry. This degree requires completion of 26 courses, each providing between three to nine semester credits at the upper division level (the equivalent of 120 semester hours.)

The Master of Divinity (M. Div.) degree

The Master of Divinity Degree is an advanced theological degree awarded to those students who have earned a bachelor's degree and wish to study at the graduate level. This degree requires completion of five modules, with each module carrying between six to twelve credits of study at the graduate level (the equivalent of 48 semester credit hours.)

The Continuing Education Program for Life-long Spiritual Enrichment

Continuing Education Courses are provided in a separate, non-degree Program area within Sophia Divinity School which provides an opportunity for enhancing one's spiritual development through on-line short courses, in-person workshops and seminars of interest to the broader Christian community. Continuing Education Units (CEUs) may be earned for completion of all continuing education courses which cover such cross-cutting issues as Chaplaincy as a Ministry of Presence, The Christian Mystics, The New Mariology, Respecting Our Sacred Earth, and Ecumenical Liturgical Explorations. Information on the course offerings are updated annually on our website under Continuing Education Programs.

Students may request an evaluation for transferring coursework from another program for a fee of $25 per request.

After six months absence, former students need a new security clearance. After a year, former students will need to submit a new application packet.

Granting of Degrees

The final authority concerning granting of theological degrees by Sophia Divinity School rests with the Dean, provided all academic and financial obligations are complete. Authority concerning ordination rests with the Presiding Bishop, in consultation with the Dean of the seminary, and in some cases with the Bishops of the church.

Admission to Candidacy

After a period of discernment, spiritual formation, and successful completion of designated courses, one may declare his/her wish to become a candidate for a degree and/or ordination. Upon acceptance, one is received as a candidate.

Discussion of Holy Orders

One of the Sacraments of the Church is that of Holy Orders, a special initiation into the service of Our Lord Jesus Christ. It is available to qualified candidates who feel a calling to devote themselves to Christ in this intimate way.

Holy Orders empowers the candidate to perform the sacred duties of the Church. The ritual of ordination is an outward act of a transformed inner reality. Each order is an initiation in itself, with its own value. Once a person has been spiritually prepared, he or she is ready to advance to the next stage of development. These ordinations link the candidate with Christ. It is said that Holy Orders were instituted by Christ and that the first bishops were consecrated by the apostles to act as instruments through which Christ performs His work.

There are two groups of orders -- the minor and the major. The Catholic Church of Antioch has one minor order, that of Healer. The Major Orders are Deacon, Priest, and Bishop. Each order emphasizes a special attribute and is intended to produce a precise effect. With each succeeding order, the candidate makes a determined effort towards the unfoldment of the characteristics of that order in each stage of their development.

The Order of Healer: In this order the power of the will is more highly developed. The Healer learns how to open himself/herself to the Divine Energy that brings health and wholeness and learns how to share that energy with those who are in need. The gift of healing will be strengthened by the initiation to the Order of Healer.

The Order of Deacon: The deacon is sufficiently empowered by this ordination to administer the sacrament of baptism and marriage, to handle the sacred vessels, and to help in the care of the sick and poor. The Deacon ministers at the altar, reads the Gospel, and takes a speaking part in the celebration of the rites. In the absence of the priest, the deacon may dispense the reserved sacrament and may conduct final rites. The candidate is generally required to spend at least six months serving as a deacon before being ordained to the priesthood.

The Order of Priest: Ordination to the priesthood effects a most profound transformation. The candidate is empowered by the Holy Spirit to celebrate sacred rites in "Persona Christi". The priest grows stronger spiritually as this initiation deepens his or her connection with higher spiritual energy, unified with the Lord Christ. The conferring of the priesthood is, above all things, the granting of a wonderful, life-transforming opportunity and no effort is spared to help the recipient to take advantage of it. In addition to the spiritual gifts conferred upon the candidate in the diaconate, the priest has the power to bless objects, to bless people in the Name of the Christ, to anoint and heal, to pronounce the forgiveness of sins, and to preside at the Holy Eucharist. This ministry is the essence of the perpetuation of the ministry of Jesus Christ. Here lies the center and the core of the priesthood. This is not a task one can relinquish whenever so moved. The invitation to service is forever. Priests are called to spend their lives as servants and lovers of God and God's people. This is a costly call, as the priest forsakes being master of his or her talents and time. However, the gifts are well worth the effort.

Comments: The Non-Stipendiary Nature of Our Ministries

Catholic Apostolic Church of Antioch clergy undertake responsibility for their ministry. They are not supported financially by the church. Few are able to support themselves through their ministries alone. Our clergy may accept monetary donations and may indicate suggested donations for their services. We are typical worker-clergy who support ourselves with other occupations and offer our service of love as a gift to God and humankind.

The Program Sequence

Students may set their own pace of study, but it is required that they complete courses in the specified sequence. Students take courses as previously outlined. Petitions for extension, needed for reasons such as serious illness, may be submitted to the Dean. It is expected that the program will be completed within a reasonable amount of time. After one year of inactivity, students are automatically dismissed from the seminary.

Community Service

Each Bachelor of Divinity candidate is expected to contribute time in voluntary service within his or her own community. Community Service is required both to understand the nature of serving without pay and to understand the social dimensions of the Gospels. By volunteering, the seminarian gains the opportunity to move from the abstract and theoretical study of religion into the practical world of day-to-day life. The candidate is expected to donate 40-60 hours of community service between admittance to candidacy and ordination to the diaconate, or the equivalent time frame for degree only students. Suggestions for service are included in Appendix 2. These suggestions meet the purpose of the requirement, so are highly recommended. Other ideas for service need to be pre-approved.

Appendix 1: Spiritual Formation for BDiv. Seminarians

I. Preamble and Definition

The Catholic Apostolic Catholic Apostolic Church of Antioch is a Community of Faith, which worships the Divine without a dogmatic or creedal structure to which its members must profess or accept. Nevertheless, it is a part of the Catholic tradition, which participates in Apostolic Succession and the Sacramental Priesthood of Christ.

As Seminarians and future clergy, we serve Divinity in these three aspects:

The relational: we enter into a personal, intimate relationship with the Divine

The Incarnational: we are one with the essence and mission of the Divine expression, the Word made flesh, in and through the Christ.

Graciousness: the Divine freely gives to us of itself, serving, sustaining and nurturing us to grow in the love and light that we are.

Spiritual formation is the structure through which we grow in these areas.

SPIRITUAL FORMATION:

All of us who are called to ministry are called to be servants of God and God's People. This requires preparation, study, support, self-examination, and some type of spiritual/devotional/prayer life/practice. It is up to each of us to pursue and develop this for ourselves. Without it, we will not be able to give to others; for what we lack ourselves, we can not give. We are, or will be, representatives and agents of the Christ; and that Christ energy is what we are called to share and cultivate. Deeper intimacy with Christ is what we seek and offer.

Just as the study of philosophy, theology, history, comparative religion, etc. is important, so also, spiritual formation is an integral part of the seminary process. It is in fact so basic that it is easy to take it for granted. We offer courses in spirituality, but it is Spirit that we must know. It is Spirit that we must bring with us.

Some of the elements which make up Spiritual Formation include:

The study of Ascetical (Mystical) Theology

Both Christian and Non-Christian Mystics and devotional authors

Various forms and types of Prayer

Reading the Classical Books and Treatises covering spirituality

Spiritual Practice/Devotion: Public, Liturgical, Sacramental
Social Action:
Care of sick/poor/disenfranchised

Private Prayer: Adoration, Expiation, Love, Petition, Vocal,
Mental: Meditation, Contemplation,
Personality work and development:
Counseling/Psychotherapy. Examination of Conscience
Penitential/devotional practices: Fasting, Rosary
Practice of virtues
Discernment of Spirits
Lectio Divina
Spiritual Direction

Seminarians will develop their spiritual formation program during the first eight weeks after enrolling in Sophia Divinity School. An annual Spiritual Formation report will be due by January 31st of each year of seminary. In this report, the seminarian is to report and discuss the progress made throughout the previous year, including readings and activities, and insights gained through Spiritual Direction that the seminarian feels comfortable sharing. In addition, seminarians will be expected to share with other seminarians through active participation on the seminarians email list.

Seminarians are responsible for discussing their program and their spiritual direction with the Dean and/or Rector.

SPIRITUAL DIRECTION:

Sophia Divinity School encourages not only an active spiritual life, but also requires that everyone preparing for ordination participate in ongoing spiritual direction, at least once a month, with a qualified Christian spiritual director, preferably a member of Spiritual Directors International, who can support that intimacy with Spirit and reflect light onto what has been referred to as the Shadow within our personality structure. The spiritual director is one, who, either by training and/or personal experience, can help one navigate the deeper waters of Spirit and aide in the process of discernment of spirits.

Spiritual Direction is not Psychological Counseling. The contexts are quite different, and spirituality admits to a whole realm of reality that most contemporary psychological systems do not address. A spiritual director is someone who sees and fosters the emergence of your true divine being, someone whom you can trust and feel comfortable and safe exploring the life of Spirit within you. A spiritual director is someone who has spent years in his/her spiritual practice, has been trained in spiritual direction by a formal training program or through an apprenticeship with another spiritual director. It is assumed that this director continues to be under spiritual direction him/herself, makes regular retreats, has a well developed spiritual practice and is continuing to read and study spiritual literature.

Not every priest or minister is qualified, either by training, personality, or experience, to offer Spiritual Direction. The spiritual director may be a member of the Catholic Apostolic Church of Antioch or not – may be a clerical or lay person. What is important is the Director's familiarity with the ways of Spirit, the typical stages and challenges of spiritual growth, and the signs of Spirit's Presence.

Anyone serving as a spiritual director for Sophia Divinity School seminarians must have completed a formal Spiritual Direction training program, such as graduating from a formal Spiritual Direction training program. Moreover it is preferred that s/he be a member of Spiritual Directors International, the professional organization for spiritual directors.

A practical dictum: "The problem with being unconscious is that one is not conscious of the unconsciousness." The spiritual director, by being outside of the directee's field of unconsciousness, offers an opportunity to see beyond or give another perspective on the process of spiritual evolution.

Finding a spiritual director is the responsibility of each individual. Hopefully this will be someone in your area, either within The Catholic Apostolic Church of Antioch or outside of it. However, the use of email or the telephone can be an alternative to having a local director.

The Seminarian's Support System

Along with your friends and family, people with whom you attend weekly worship services and others in your personal life, Sophia Divinity School offers you a support system.

Other seminarians and CCOA clergy. You will interact with other seminarians through the seminarians' email list, sharing thoughts on various assignments, sharing prayer requests, joys and challenges. You will meet many of the CCOA clergy at convocations.

Mentor. You will be assigned a mentor. This is the person with whom you will be expected to communicate at least monthly. This person will encourage you, challenge you, answer questions and help you find your own answers.

Directors. Sophia Divinity School Directors, Dean, and other staff members handle the general operations of the seminary, serving as the keeper of the files and as the registrar, serving as liaison between the seminarian and others, handling curriculum and instruction, working with the mentors, consulting with the Rector and so on.

Rector. The Rector is the CCOA Presiding Bishop and oversees the operations of seminary, primarily by handling the occasional tasks, such as approving curriculum, helping with problem situations, serving as a liaison between the psychologist and the seminary, and working with the Dean, Mentor, and Seminarian should issues arise.

The Divine. None of us are alone. You are answering a call, whether is it to ordained or lay ministry. Remember that the Divine is part of your support system and will guide you and aid you through this experience.
